

Gregor Medinger is the past president of HVB Capital, Inc. and founder of Rum Hill Capital, LLC, a financial services and investment company in New York.

He is board member of several American corporations as well as charitable organizations in Europe and the U.S., and a member of the International Council of the Museum of Modern Art. He is the former president of the American Austrian Foundation, serving from 1989 to 1997, and currently serves as a trustee and heads the AAF Cultural Committee.

Mr. Medinger was born in Vienna where he grew up and was educated, graduating with a doctorate of law from the University of Vienna. He is a citizen of both the United States and Austria.