

Robert Seber is a Partner in the New York office of Vinson & Elkins, specializing in M&A and Private Equity, and is the Head of their Investment Management and Fund Formation Group. He is highly experienced in the full cycle of private equity funds – including fund formation, carry and equity arrangements, governance, investments, and exits – and has a profound knowledge of market trends. He has formed multiple energy and infrastructure funds with innovative terms that reflect the nuances of investments in these industries. Robert has also structured multiple holding companies and similar investment vehicles with fund-like structures across a variety of industries.

Robert is an adjunct professor of law at New York University School of Law, where he taught a class on energy transition for several years. He is a frequent panelist on private equity and energy policy topics.

Robert is a graduate of Yale Law School (1986) and Vienna Law School (1981). He joined the board of the American Austrian Foundation in October 2025.